Uniform Freight Rates Demanded

A Justice Denied to the South

You read in this paper March 30 an AP dispatch from Washington reporting that the Board of Investigation and Research created by the 1940 Transportation Act has recommended abolition of the regional differential in freight rates and the creation of a uniform national rate structure.

OPA to Release New Prices on Rationed Meats

Washington, April 1 — (AP) — The Office of Price Administration today polished up new standardized retail prices for beef, veal, lamb and mutton, which along with rationing, are expected by officials to iron out many of the kinds in that meat distribution machinery.

These price rules, which probably will be released Monday, will be similar to the standardized retail pork prices that go into effect today, although they probably will not be effective until about April 15.

As in the case of today's pork prices, the new rules on beef, veal, lamb and mutton will set up two prices, one for small independent stores and the other for large independents and chains, in each of the zones into which the country has been divided. The two prices probably will be a cent to a few cents apart, with the small stores permitted to charge the higher prices because of higher relative operating costs.

This will do away with the confusion over meat prices which officials believe has done much to make possible widespread "black markets" in meat. Formerly, each store had its individual maximum meat prices depending on what that store charged for each cut in March, 1942. As wholesale prices rose, many stores with low maximums could not afford to handle much meat. Some were tempted, accordingly, to buy meat illegally and sell it at illegal prices. As OPA sees it, it was impossible to enforce the individual ceiling because the public could not determine easily whether it was being charged proper prices.

Under the new system, all small stores and all large or chain stores in the same locality will have the same maximum prices, enabling the public to detect illegal charges easily.

Today's pork prices provide samples of the new system. In Los Angeles and San Francisco and other cities in their zone, for instance, grade A sliced bacon cannot bring more than 49 cents a pound in small stores and 47 cents in the others. In the Chicago zone, center slices of smoked ham are limited to 60 cents a pound in small stores and 57 cents elsewhere. In the Boston New York - Philadelphia Washington zone, the top price on smoked whole hams is 41 cents a pound in small stores and 39 cents elsewhere.

The pork regulation contains similar ceiling prices for a total of 66 principal cuts, which are subdivided by grade and other variations into 230 classifications.

Revenue Inspector Attacked at Capitol

Little Rock, April 1 — (AP) — State police joined Little Rock authorities today in a search for an unidentified assailant who fired two shots at State Revenue Inspector A. B. Huddleston as he entered the state capitol last night.

Huddleston had gone to the capitol to check some automobile license number for the state police. He said the building was unlighted and that as he entered the license division in the basement someone fired at him. The shots went wild.

The building was searched without success. The regular capitol nightwatchman said no one left by the main door which was not locked.

Little Rock Plant Damaged by Fire

Little Rock, April 1 — (AP) — Fire that started in the refinishing room caused damage estimated at more than $20,000 to the Little Rock Furniture Manufacturing company's plant at 1498 East Second street here early today.

The blaze set off an automatic sprinkler system and considerable water damage resulted in other parts of the factory.

State Special Taxes Show Good Increase

Little Rock, April 1 — (AP) — Special tax sources produced $2,529,726 for Arkansas in March compared to $2,483,316 in March 1942 and $2,601,428 in February 1943 despite sharp drops in gasoline and liquor revenues.

New March highs for cigarette, severance, income and beer taxes and a sharp increase in sales tax collections over March 1942 more than offset the slump in gasoline and liquor taxes.

Sales tax collections were up to $730,025 from $609,385 in March 1942; cigarette revenues jumped from $173,615 to $204,501, and severance taxes climbed to $102,581 from $67,081. Income taxes produced $290,813 and beer taxes totaled $115,900.

Gasoline tax revenue dropped to $708,406 from $919,254 in March 1942 and liquor revenue declined to $56,337 from $99,629.

Reds Increase Tempo Despite Bad Weather

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, April 1 — (AP) — Overcoming the worst kinds of transportation difficulties, the Red Army struggled today to increase the tempo of its offensives despite the bad weather.

In the Kuban valley of the Western Caucasus, the Soviet troops drove on from Anastasevskaya, one of the German's last good-sized bases on the eastern of the Kerch strait. The Soviet midnight communiqué announced its capture yesterday. The strait is but 42 miles from the town.

There was evidence along other sectors that the Russians, by their great effort at quick consolidation of their gains, were beginning to give the Germans fresh worries. The Nazi commanders had been confident mud and slush resulting from the spring thaw would halt all operations. Now they were beginning to wonder if their wishes would come true.

The German communiqué said today the Germans had repulsed Russian attacks at the Kuban bridgehead and that only local engagements were being fought in other sectors of the eastern front.

The midday communiqué said that on the western front, after artillery duels, the Russians cleared the Germans from some positions, although there was no material change in this front before Smolensk.

The Germans threw numerous sharp counterattacks at the Soviet troops but gained no objectives, it was said. The Germans now were reported fighting from a good depth of defenses where they were well armed and fully manned, and boasting superior numbers in some sectors.

There was some evidence that they were piling in reserves as they strained every effort to halt the Russian advance toward Smolensk.

The Red Army had to use roads across the marshlands because the Germans had wrecked the railway as they moved back. The Germans, on the other hand, still had rail lines supplying the front from Smolensk.

The Germans continued sharp but not big-scale attacks in narrow sectors along the Northern Donets river, and failed to make any crossings or to drive the Russians from the footholds they still had on the western bank, it was declared.

West of Rostov, activity increased as warmer spring weather made the area better for military operations, and Soviet big guns battered the German positions.

The Germans attempted violently to retake the Kuban sector regained by the Red Army. Led by dive bombers, 200 rapid fire rifle men advanced upon the approaches of a settlement.

A Tass dispatch declared the Germans shelled and bombed the sector every 10 or 15 minutes for several hours, and then the rifle men moved in. They were repulsed. They launched a second attack; it, too, ended in failure.

Anastasevskaya is only 10 miles from a road leading south to Novorossiisk, the former Russian naval base on the Black Sea coast and principal supply center now for what is left of the Nazi Caucasus army. If the Russians can seize the road junction they could trap a sizable German force in that area.

Another Soviet force previously had been reported in Abinskaya, only 20 miles northeast of Novorossiisk.

Export of Liberian rubber increased from about 2,500,000 pounds in 1935 to 14,000,000 pounds in 1941.

GOP Seeking to Bar Roosevelt From 4th Term

—Washington

Washington, April 1 — (AP) — Republicans angled today for Democratic support preparatory to introducing in the Senate a resolution proposing a constitutional amendment limiting a president's tenure in office to two four-year terms.

Senator Butler (R - Neb.) said he and other Republicans planned to join in offering the resolution soon and hoped to have some Democratic support. An informal canvass indicated, he said, "several" Democrats would support the measure.

The Butler resolution is similar to a proposal being considered by Senator Wherry (R - Neb.) but differs in form from a constitutional amendment under study by Senator Bridges (R - NH), which would limit a president's tenure in office to one six-year term.

Obviously designed to counteract talk of a fourth term nomination for President Roosevelt, the Butler measure could be expected to have the solid backing of the Senate's 38 Republicans, but a two-thirds vote by both Houses is required to submit a constitutional amendment to the states.

Impetus to the congressional move came with adoption of anti-fourth term resolutions by Republican-controlled state legislatures in Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, and Michigan.

Republican National Chairman Harrison Spangler said the action in these states represented a spontaneous movement which apparently started too late to accomplish its objective by 1944.

Spangler made this observation as Democratic National Chairman Frank Walker returned from three weeks' tour of 12 states of the west, midwest and southwest with an impression his party's chances for 1944 "look very good."

Walker did not mention the fourth-term issue in talking with reporters in Chicago, but at Spokane, where he visited March 15, he said "it is the opposition that is talking fourth term, not the Democrats."

Butler said in drafting the Senate resolution he was moved by the belief that to continue a president in office more than two terms could only lead eventually to a break-down in Democratic government.

Measles, Whooping Cough, Pox in State

Little Rock, April 1 — (AP) — State Health Officer W. B. Grayson reported today mild epidemics of German measles, whooping cough and chicken pox in Arkansas.

The weekly tabulation of communicable diseases showed 1,943 measles cases this year compared to 52 for the same period in 1942; 649 cases of chicken pox compared to 414 and 442 cases of whooping cough compared to 135.

Four new cases of meningitis were reported during the week, increasing the total for the year to 26 as compared to nine for the same period last year.

This Is All Fool's Day--but the War Rationing Does Away With Fooling

By KENNETH L. DIXON

Washington, April 1 — (AP) — This is April Fool's day — sometimes known as All Fools' day, which doesn't leave any doubt as to what the ancients thought about most folks.

But in view of the war's restrictions on what some fools consider fun, the Society for the Preservation of Practical Jokers today warned its members throughout the nation to proceed with caution in the matter of pranks otherwise, there may be casualties.

For instance: Don't use that old wallet-on-a-hat or the sidewalk, for passing pedestrians to kick. It's sabotage — shoes are rationed.

Don't use that old wallet-on-a-string trick. If the sucker bends over to pick it up, he may bust his suspenders. Rubber elastic is scarce.

Don't put salt in the sugar bowl.

OPA to File on Rent Violators

Little Rock, April 1 — (AP) — The Arkansas Democrat said today a "crack-down" on rental property owners charged with violating rent regulations was seen in the announcement by the state OPA office that suits were being prepared for filing against eight landlords in the Jonesboro and Little Rock divisions of the eastern Arkansas federal court district.

One suit was filed here against a Little Rock apartment owner charged with false declaration of apartment rentals, illegal eviction of tenants and failure to register one rental unit.

OPA also announced the Fort Smith and two Hot Springs cases had been prepared for filing in the western district court tomorrow.

U.S. Creating Doubts As to Post War Role

New York, April 1 — (AP) — Sumner Wells, undersecretary of state said today that "one of the gravest doubts that exists in the minds of the partners of the United Nations today is the doubt as to what the policy of the United States will be when the victory is won."

Wells, in an address prepared for delivery to the Chamber of Commerce of the state of New York and broadcast by the National Broadcasting company, declared our Allies remember that after the victory of 1918 the United States "withdrew from almost every form of practical cooperation with friendly nations in the reconstruction tasks, and 'made no effort to win the peace.'"

"Our Allies are asking themselves now whether we will again follow that same course," Wells said. "In a very real sense the decision that will be made with regard to the renewal of the trade agreements act will be regarded by a people throughout the world as an acid test of our future intentions."

"They will see in that decision a clear indication as to whether the people of the United States have determined upon a policy of international cooperation for the future, or whether they will once more turn back to that road of isolation which leads to inevitable disaster."

Wells said the creation of a reliable and permanent peace is the greatest single interest and objective of the nation, but voiced an opinion that the greatest obstacle to success in the project was defeatism.

"And I am even more convinced that unless the American people willing to assume their fair share of responsibility for the maintenance of peace in the world of the future, by joining in the exercise of police powers when that may be determined by international agreement to be necessary, and by participating in such other forms of international cooperation as may effectively prevent the rise of economic or political dangers, the peace of the world cannot be maintained," he said.

In the post-war period, the undersecretary said, it will be necessary for this country to supply its fair share of immediate relief to those left destitute in the wake of the war, "not only for humanitarian reasons but for reasons of pure self-interest."

Liberia and its neighboring state, Sierra Leone, have the heaviest rainfall on western Africa's coastal bulge.

Invasion Jitters Hit Nazis Amid Landing Report

—Europe

London, April 1 — (AP) — Signs of increasing Axis invasion jitters from the Balkan frontier to the Scandinavian peninsula were highlighted today by a roundabout report that Allied parachute troops had established a base in the Norwegian mountains and had sallied out in raids on Nazi-controlled factories.

The Norwegian government, in exile here, commenting upon the report, declared "Quisling and the Germans appear to be genuinely alarmed," but said it could not give any confirmation.

The story came to London in Stockholm dispatches which said the Allied parachute base was somewhere in the Nardanger Vidda mountain lakes area, an ideal district for an airdrome and that it was equipped with a meteorological station.

The London daily press quoted the German radio as announcing Nazi troops are hunting the parachutists, said to be British and Norwegians.

On the southern border of the Italian invasion area, meanwhile, Alessandro Pavolini announced Sicily, off the toe of the Italian boot, had become "a fortified outpost of the European continent itself against any and all attacks coming from the Mediterranean." Yesterday Italy announced a new mobilization law to be applied in event of invasion.

The Daily Mail said in a dispatch from Madrid that 350,000 tons of French shipping immobilized in Mediterranean ports since the German occupation of southern France had been ordered sent to Genoa, Spezia and ports in Sardinia and Sicily.

"The obvious inference is that a Dunkerque fleet is being collected for Rommel," the Mail said. Emergency crews of Italians would man the ships, the paper said.

Mills Makes Longest Talk on Tax Plan

Washington, April 1 — (AP) — One of the longest speeches during the income tax debate in the House was by Representative Wilbur Mills (D - Ark.).

Mills, who is a member of the Ways and Means committee, vigorously supported the tax bill written by that group and attacked the Ruml plan which he said was "not the American way."

"Must we forever be confronted with schemes which when stripped of their glowing colors always show a tendency to change the American way of life?" he asked.

He spoke for 45 minutes without being interrupted, though interruptions were frequent in most of the tax speeches as members hurled charges of "demagoguery" at one another across the aisle separating Democrats and Republicans.

Mills devoted nearly all of his time to analysis, without much reference to personalities. One of the lighter passages of the speech was as follows:

"The proponents of wholesale cancellation admit that their plan will do some damage to our social structure. However, they claim that this damage will not come to light until Judgment Day. They say that we can therefore dismiss it for the time being from practical considerations."

"Now the exact date of judgment Day has been the subject of considerable dispute, some of which has been of a sectarian nature. However, if Judgment Day coincides with the day when harmful effects of wholesale cancellation will be felt, Mr. Ruml's rating of this momentous occasion is the earliest I have heard from any responsible authority."

He continued that actually the Carlson bill embodying the main features of the Ruml plan "would threaten a very formidable day of reckoning in the near future." He ended the bill "a bill for the tax relief of congressmen and the rich."

Camp Robinson, April 1 — (AP) — The branch immaterial replacement training center at Camp Robinson will move to Camp Fanning at Tyler, Tex., Maj. Gen. Richard Donovan, commanding general of the Eighth Service Command, announced here last night.

Adkins Promised Aid in Mine Development

Washington, April 1 — (AP) — Gov. Homer M. Adkins returned to Arkansas today with assurances from Director R. R. Sayers of the Bureau of Mines that he would assist in efforts to obtain priorities for a pilot plant to process diamonds from the Arkansas diamond fields for war industries.

Adkins called on Sayers after President Roosevelt had referred him to Secretary Ickes, who in turn sent Adkins to Sayers. The Arkansas governor told the president he was anxious to see the now idle diamond field in his state placed in production.

Adkins, scheduled to arrive in Little Rock tonight, went to the WPA with Senator McClellan (D - Ark.) to request consideration for Arkansas in an expansion of aluminum production. They also discussed proposed completion of power units at the Lake Catherine, Ark., aluminum plant but Adkins said they received the impression that completion must wait until after the war.

Chinese Armies Beat Off 13 Jap Attacks

By the Associated Press

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese armies have crushed a series of 13 Japanese attacks and launched 17 of their own during the past week, a Chinese spokesman said today, while on other Far Pacific fronts the Allies struck at the Japanese by air from Burma to the South Sea.

The Chinese spokesman's report indicated Japan was making little headway in her new all-out offensive to knock China out of the war.

An official summary declared that the situation in Szechuan, where the Japanese have been attacking an eight-column drive, had been "very much stabilized and improved" since last week.

A Japanese force on the Yangtze-Kiang river has been "more or less destroyed," the spokesman said.

Far to the west, at China's "back door" along the Yunnan - Burma frontier, severe fighting was reported in progress as the Japanese attempted to capture the town of Talo south of the Burma road.

On the Burma front, RAF warplanes blasted railway yards at Japanese-occupied Temple City of Mandalay and set off fires raging at Bhamo on the Irrawaddy river.

In the Southwest Pacific, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced that Allied planes carried out a devastating three-hour assault on the big Japanese base at Salamaua, New Guinea, and also attacked Lae, Timika and Babo.

Direct bomb hits tore a 30-foot hole in the new 150-foot Japanese supply bridge across the Timper river in New Guinea, a communiqué said, heavily damaging the span which forms a link in the enemy's Wewak - Medang coastal supply road.

Imperial Tokyo headquarters, whose communiqués recently have been few and far between, asserted that Japanese planes had sunk a 5,000-ton transport and damaged four 500-tonners along the Burma coast and destroyed 20 Allied planes between March 26 and 30.

The claims were not confirmed by Allied sources.

More Bombs For Kiska

Washington, April 1 — (AP) — Aerial bombers and fighters raided Japanese positions on Kiska island in the Aleutians twice Tuesday and attacked Attu island once, the Navy reported today. One bomber was lost to anti-aircraft fire.

Fredendall May Succeed Gen. Lear

Memphis, April 1 — (AP) — Maj. Gen. Lloyd R. Fredendall, a veteran of the Tunisian campaign, appeared today a certain choice to succeed Lt. Gen. Ben Lear, who retires May 31 as commander of the 2nd army.

Fredendall reported to Lear yesterday as deputy commander of the Army and later the three-star general announced he was retiring at the age of 64 under statutory law.

There was no official announcement of Lear's successor, but there appeared little doubt that Fredendall, hero of the American landing in Oran, would take over. Second army troops are scattered in training camps and military posts throughout the Middle West from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico.

An army man for 42 of his 59 years, Fredendall, like Lear, is known as a strict disciplinarian and outstanding trainer of troops.

Huge Group of Fortresses Hit South Sardinia

—Africa

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, April 1 — (AP) — British and American troops squeezed tighter the vise upon Axis division in Tunisia today while it was disclosed the largest single force of U. S. Flying Fortresses ever massed had blasted the shipping and air fields of Southern Sardinia, to which Field Marshal Erwin Rommel looks for aid.

Nearly 100 Fortresses, escorted by strong formations of Lightnings struck yesterday at the Sardinian port of Cagliari and three air-dromes, hit five merchant ships and 21 smaller craft, spread acres of fire across industrial targets, damaged or destroyed 57 aircraft ground and shot down 14 enemy fighter planes on a mission from which every raider returned.

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth Army patrols began preliminary skirmishes against a line of Rommel's rear guards newly dug in about 24 miles north of Gabes on the coastal highway north to Sfax.

Military sources here said the line was about 12 miles north of newly-captured Oudref, flanking the coastal highway north to Sfax and well above the Gabes bottle neck.

To Montgomery's left, United States armored units from the command of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., pushing eastward in the El Guefaria pass area encountered deep mine fields which made progress difficult, but the junction with the Eighth Army appeared near.

British and French infantrymen pushed forward in the sector of Sedjenane, itself 40 miles south-west of Bizerte. The Tabouana line, overlooking Sedjenane and the Matrouh Tabarea road from the south, was captured by a British battalion of the First Army after a series of eight bayonet charges. Making good progress east of Sedjenane, the First Army has captured much enemy war equipment, a communiqué said.

The Radio said in a broadcast recorded in London that the battle of Tunisia was approaching a climax. The announcer said it was probable "the British First Army and the American army in their turn will soon assume tasks of no less importance than those of the Eighth Army."

(The Russian Army Newspaper Red Star said Rommel was in serious danger, adding "our Allies possess sufficient power and battle means to squeeze the ring of their troops around the Italian and German units and exterminate them.")

It was officially announced the Axis lost 31 aircraft in combat yesterday with the Allied North African air forces, while 12 Allied planes failed to return.

American Warhawks supporting U. S. ground troops in the El Guefaria pass area destroyed 10 enemy planes for a loss of one of their own.

The Flying Fortress - Lightning assault upon Cagliari, 140 miles north of the Axis-held Naval base of Bizerte, crippled a major port for the dispatch of both planes and ships to the armies of Marshal Rommel and Col. Gen. Jurgen Von Arnim.

Of the five merchant ships directly hit, two were left afloat. Schooners, coastal craft and motorboats were among others damaged by the raiders.

High explosives were tossed upon the factory districts, the waterfront, the railway freight warehouses, a passenger station, repair yards and a fuel pumping station. Fires cracked in the debris and enormous columns of smoke arose.

Heavy machine-guns of the Fortresses cut down challenging enemy fighters one by one. There were so many of the big bombers in the formation that some crews had no chance to fire at the Axis planes.

Heavy blows also were struck at the Axis supply port across the Sicilian narrows by American Mitchells escorted by Lightnings. They scored a direct hit on a merchant vessel and dropped a bomb alongside a small freighter in a sweep against a six-ship convoy.

Another wave of Mitchells attacked the convoy two hours later, sinking one large merchant ship, leaving another burning and sinking and another in flames. A large transport was hit twice and observers said she was last seen down at the bow.

The Mitchells destroyed four German fighters which attempted to intercept them and damaged several others while the top-covering Lightnings shot down two.

Bombers Expected to Prepare Way for an Invasion

Analysis of the News by Mackenzie

Editorial Comment Written Today and Moved by Telegraph or Cable.

By DeWITT MacKENZIE
Spring's terrible mud and slush which are torturing the battalions in Russia probably are bad news for the unfortunate troops who have to struggle through them, but they're good news for the Allied cause as a whole.

This is once when we can do a lot of powerful things that spring will play the lagard in Eastern Europe and delay the entrance of summer the season of all out offensives. The point is that the Anglo American Allies need a change to get set to deliver a powerful blow against Hitler somewhere in Western Europe by the time the good weather makes it possible for him to inaugurate another great drive against the Red Army.

It would be unsafe to permit the Nazi Fuehrer to employ all this striking power on the eastern front again. His position is becoming increasingly difficult and he is likely to try some daring gamble this summer to extricate himself. Freedom from pressure on the west would be an invitation to him to try another smash at the Bolsheviks.

Last year the all highest started his successful Crimean drive on May 12. A month later his terrific offensive against the Caucasus was in full swing.

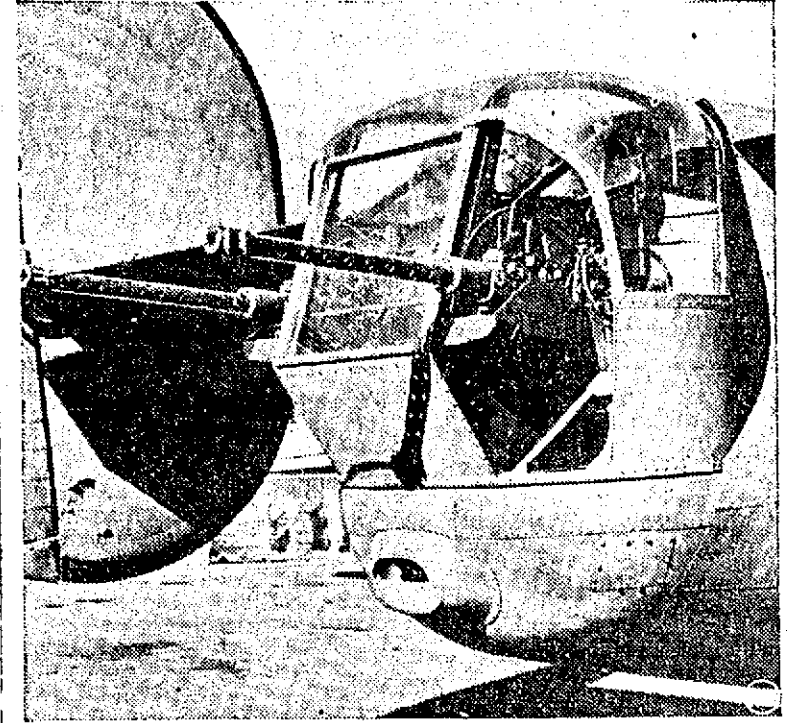

This is to say that the Allies have maybe two months in which to finish off Tunisia and pull up their socks for another big show. Their offensive should go down the ways by June first if they are to be in position to deal with the fast moving Nazis.

There are, as pointed out in yesterday's column, several possible offensives, but there's only one which, if successful, could force the Hitlerian war to a speedy conclusion—that is the invasion of France across the English channel. The Russians continue to call for this second front in the west the latest appeal being from Alexander Troianovsky, former Soviet ambassador to the United.

Well, of course that's easier said than done, but the attempt presumably will be made if the Allies have the necessary equipment for such a colossal undertaking. If we can't have that, then we may get an invasion of the Balkans.

Anyway, so far as one can see everything is being done which could be done at this moment to prepare for an invasion of Western Europe if it is feasible when an appropriate moment arrives. We are speeding up the Tunisian battle so as to release men and equipment and free the shipping lanes of the Mediterranean. We are giving Germany and occupied territories an awful raking from the air.

That knocking out of Hitler's main industries, military bases and lines of communication in Western Europe by heavy bombing is an essential preliminary to invasion. When I was in England last October I was told in informed quarters that if the Anglo-American bomber force could be trebled—not an excessive figure at all—the job could be completed by this spring. The task is unfinished, and this probably means that the necessary bomber haven't been available.

However, the British-American team has been getting ahead with the business recently. Along with this we get the good word from London that informed observers expected an immediate expansion of the United States air service to follow Major General Ira C. Eaker's statement that the experimental phase of daylight precision bombing had been passed successfully. England look for a swarm of big bombers from across the Atlantic.

If this expansion materializes, we have a right to expect that the combined air forces will have time in the next couple of months to reduce the Nazis sufficiently to permit of invasion. The good bombing weather is coming on. What we need is the bombers.

Ceiling Prices Set on Used Trucks, Buses

Washington, March 31 (AP)—In an effort to chop down war-inflated prices, the Office of Price Administration today decreed maximum prices for used trucks, ambulances, buses and other used commercial motor vehicles.

The new regulations, effective April 26, sets the top legal price of any of these vehicles at a percentage of its original delivered price depending on age and partly on whether the vehicle has been reconditioned, the per cent ages range from 26 to 97 of "new cost."

These percentages, OPA said, are "expected to halt the activities of speculators which have resulted in some instances in prices which are 200 per cent or more over the normal value of the used truck."

Exempted from the order are ordinary passenger automobiles, taxicabs, station wagons and farm tractors. However, officials said they were studying the possibility of similar action on these vehicles.

Amazing results in building STURDY BODIES!

1—Promote the flow of vital digestive juices in the stomach

2—Energize your body with RICH, RED BLOOD!

YOUNG people, especially those of grammar and high school age, are prone to be deficient in stomach digestive juices and red-blood.

A growing person who is operating on a 65 to 70% healthy blood volume or a stomach digestive capacity of only 50 to 60% normal is severely handicapped. In such cases Nature needs extra help. Organic troubles or focal infection, if they exist, must be corrected. Tissue foods must be digested and rich, red-blood must be present to build sturdy bodies.

S.S.S. Tonic is especially designed to build-up blood strength when deficient... and to promote those stomach juices which digest the food so the body can make proper use of it in tissue building and repair.

These two important results enable the body to make use of the food as Nature intended. Thus you may gain a keen appetite... firm flesh... body energy... mental alertness!

Build Sturdy Health so that the Doctors may better serve our Fighting Forces

Thousands and thousands of users have testified to the benefits S.S.S. Tonic has brought to them and scientific research shows that it gets results—that's why so many say "S.S.S. Tonic builds sturdy health... makes you feel like yourself again!" At drug stores in 10 and 20 oz. sizes. U.S.S.S. Co.

Victory Garden Onions Grow from Sets or Seeds

Large Onions Grown From Onion Sets, Harvested in August

Most Victory gardens will grow onions from sets or seeds. Sets are merely dwarfed onions, grown last year in crowded rows which prevented them from developing normal size. They are grown from the same seed that produces large onions.

Their advantage over seed is in the time they take to grow to usable size. They will produce green onions in three weeks, and mature onions in three months.

From 15 to 30 pounds of large onions can be grown from a pound of onion sets which do not average over three-quarters of an inch in diameter. To grow large onions, sow small sets an inch deep; and to grow spring or green onions, sow larger sets two or three inches deep.

Bermuda onion plants are started in the southern states, pulled up when as large as a lead pencil and shipped north to be planted in gardens. They should be fresh and green when you plant them and

Kid Swipes Army Plane

London (AP)—A 14 year old apprentice fitter, who builds model planes, now knows how it feels to fly a real U. S. Army ship—although it cost him a few bruises and a trip to juvenile court.

DEATH AHEAD

CHAPTER XXVIII

"PAT! . . . Pat Friday, Plane Number 10! . . . Oh my God, PAT!"

Capt. James Carr, U. S. Army pilot of the motor ship towing a sky train, was frantically trying to get a radio communication through. He yelled at his microphone while the ship dived and bucked and twisted in the storm over Superstition Mountain. He gripped his teeth, threw electric switches, twisted dials. Beside him, Loraine Stuart was white with fear, but he ignored her presence. "PAT!" he shrieked again.

"Number 10 . . . Pat!"

In technical truth, that frantic cry of his did get through to Pat, struggling now in that same storm. She heard him, and she tried to answer. It was Jimmy's receiving apparatus that had gone temporarily dead. But then, her own radio, both ways, seemed to be functioning. What's more, Pat couldn't spare the time to try to tune it. From her position as tail-end ship of the train, she had cut loose with astonishing courage. Her plane had dipped. The gusty blow had caught her unprepared. "Eee-o-o-e-e!" she shrieked then in the loneliness.

For a matter of seconds she rolled sideways. And it took all the skill and strength she could muster to right the ship again.

When she came out of it she could see no sign of the parent train, because the cloud around her was streaked, streaming, boiling. Lightning darted through it. Oddly, in this moment of stress she remembered what a newspaper reporter had told her about Superstition Mountain.

"The Indians say the Thunder Gods live up there," he had said, "and it's a fact, because on stormy days you can listen and hear them pounding their gargantuan tom-toms."

She heard the tom-toms now. Off right, then left. Assaulting her ears, crashing against clouds and against the earth itself. She felt infinitesimal, and indeed she was exactly that compared to the bulk and anger of Nature here.

"If I can . . . keep a . . . level head," she was pleading with herself.

The cloth and aluminum sailplane she piloted was a wisp of straw. Wind whined outside the transparent hood like banshees wailing. Daylight came through the storm at intervals, showing gray nothingness ahead and all around. Lightning intensified that same blank oblivion.

"Jimmy! . . . Captain Carr! . . . Number 10 reporting!" She jiggled radio dials. Even as she did so she knew she was wasting time. The set was completely dead.

She had watched her altimeter with greatest care. That delicate needle had shown 12,200 feet when she cut loose from the tow line. It had dropped a little. Then Pat had remembered Superstition Mountain beneath, so she soared widely, seeking a thermal, an up-current of air.

At the noon hour a live-at-home luncheon was served by a committee of the Doyle home demonstration club women.

The afternoon program was opened by group singing. The Belton club gave a demonstration on thrift garments and special entertainment feature a play—"Victims for Victory," was presented by the Doyle Club. Flashes of Life

Follow the Leader
New York — When a Long Island railroad train turned up five minutes late, Motorman John J. Skelly said a small fox terrier with unusual sangfroid was to blame. The dog got on the tracks at the Rego Park, Queens, station and trotted ahead of the creeping train for a mile and a half. Skelly blew the whistle a few times but became discouraged. The dog always barked back.

Sam Old Excuse
St. Louis — Missouri motorists and office boys whose grandparants die with alarming frequency each baseball season have much in common, the state gasoline rationing board has decided.

Noting with the advent of spring a flood of requests for extra gasoline with which to attend funerals, William H. Bryan, state rationing officer, said sternly: "Funeral directors are provided with the necessary gasoline to drive immediate members of the family but beyond that there is not allotment."

Easter Economy
Washington — It's all right to decorate your eggs this Easter, the Agriculture department said in announcing the annual White House egg rolling had been cancelled again this year.

But you better use tasty colors. While appealing to the nation to prevent the wasteful use of eggs, live baby chicks and ducklings during the Easter season, the department said decoration with harmless colors was not wasteful. . . . Provided you eat the eggs later.

Mayor on the Job
Gary, Ind. — Mayor La Guardia meet Mayor Joe Finherly — who doesn't stop at chasing the fire engines but took care of one fire run by himself.

Fire blazed in a home a few doors from "Hitler's" home. The mayor smashed a front window to gain entrance and went to work on the flames smouldering in a bedroom mattress and coverings. Firemen arrived to find that the mayor had everything well in hand and was pouring water on the blaze with a dishpan.

Education Pays
Hartford, Conn. — The State legislature's education committee has rather conclusive evidence that special classes for mentally handicapped children are benefitting those assigned to them.

State Education Commissioner Alonzo C. Grace told the committee: "Some of the pupils are now making more than the teachers."

Rover There
Seattle, Wash. — The British had a word for her, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt laughingly told a group of high school interviewers. In all code messages relative to her travels in Britain, she was labelled "Rover."

And when she had difficulty locating one of her sons in England, she added, a teletype operator sent this: "Rover has lost her pup."

The Negro republic of Liberia was first colonized by American freed slaves early in the 19th century.

Nyack, N. Y. (AP)—Actress Helen

Big Six Schools Making Plans to Play Football

By NORR GARRETT

Kansas City, April 1 —(AP)—Big Six schools, with the exception of Kansas State, are doing more than going through the motions in preparing for the 1943 football campaign, such as it will be under wartime conditions.

Coaches and candidates have taken spring practices seriously, even though the grid mentors realize they may have only a few 4F's and a few 17-year olds when the season rolls around next September.

Only K-State has found it impossible to hold spring practice, one of the institutions of the sport. The Wildcats recently announced cancellation of their drills.

It is business as usual on the other five campuses, though, with Kansas, through Acting Director Karl Kloss, today announcing a spring program of some description. As soon as plans are formulated, Henry Shenk, former Jayhawk star and now track coach at his alma mater, will start the workouts.

Oklahoma and Nebraska have completed their sessions, Missouri concludes its program Saturday and Iowa State's hopefuls reported Tuesday for their first practice.

At Columbia, coach Don Faurot's 1942 championship aggregation sings its swan song in the traditional varsity-alumni game Saturday. Seventeen lettermen of the 1942 team will perform for the alumni, among them several juniors who would return for action next year were it not for an appointment with Uncle Sam.

Starting for the alumni will be such familiar figures as Bob Steuber, Bull Reese, Bert Ekern, Ed Hodges, Mike Fitzgerald and Jeff Davis. Opposing this array of talent is a varsity squad of 37, including lettermen Bill Ekern, Vrelic Abrams, Bob Callahan, Fred Kling, Keith Parker and Leo Milha.

Reflecting the war-time conditions is the situation at Iowa state. Of the 32 men reporting to Coach Mike Michalske, only one, guard Don Seibold, is a letterman. The other veteran available, halfback Howard Tipper, hasn't reported. Only 7 of the 28 fresh numerical winners were on hand.

Uncle Sam plays no favorites, though, and coaches are proceeding under the theory that every school is going to have difficulty fielding a team.

It may not be good football, but it'll be a reasonable facsimile, they're sure.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

New York, April 1 —(AP)—Although the National A.A.U. swimming championships this week-end are packed full of record-breakers, about the only chance of busting a record will be in the opening event on some program. . . Reason is that the New York A. C. pool is a bit too narrow to be called "fast."

Coaches say the same races at Yale would produce times one fifth or two fifths of a second faster. . . But there's always a possibility right at the start before the boys have kicked up the annoying wash that slows them down.

Lew Diamond, the honest brackishman, says that only a few bucks stands in the way of closing a Jackie Callum-Lula Constantino non-title fight for New Orleans late in April. The dickerer involves taking ten per cent "off the top" to buy boxing equipment for service men.

John Mooney, Salt Lake Telegram: "Anyway, the rookie crop which blooms so nicely in the grapefruit loop, ripens so nicely the first weeks of the season and then either rots or drops from the limb about midseason, may be retarded enough by the northland's cold to insure a better yield this fall in the major league apple orchard."

The Iowa System
Football coaches likely will be keeping a close watch on spring football practice at the Iowa Prep Flight school — and not with the idea of picking up a couple of good running guards. . . The school will put a dozen squadrons in the field and let them, Col. Bernie Bierman plans to give half of them off-ense patterned after his own Minnesota system and to teach the other six "T" formation plays. . . They'll wind up a round-robin schedule with an allstar game between the two groups.

Walker Wins Approval
Cairo, Ill. — Manager Billy Southworth of the St. Louis Cardinals is looking with approval on the work of Harry Walker, who is trying to fill Enos Slaughter's shoes in his Cards' outfield. Walker slammed a homer and double, drove in three runs and counted one in yesterday's intra-squad game.

Receive Early Workouts
Asbury, Park, N. J. — Charlie Keller and Bill Knickerbocker, two late arrivals in the New York Yankees camp, haven't played any baseball yet but they're beginning to feel the rigors of training. Knickerbocker reached here yesterday in time to work out with the advanced class in calisthenics while Keller, a latter arrival, got his exercise carrying his bags up three flights because the hotel elevator was out of order.

Infielder Turns Catcher
Bear Mountain, N. Y. — Although the Brooklyn Dodgers admittedly need infielders more than anything else, Bobby Bragan, acquired from the Phillies, figures his future lies as a catcher. Checking in at camp yesterday, Bragan said: "I think I'd do better in the future as a catcher. Not that I know as much about catching as I do about infield play, but I liked catching after Hans Lobert put me behind the plate."

Sox Optimistic Over Chance for Pennant

By JUDSON BAILEY

Medford, Mass., April 1 —(AP)—The Boston Red Sox could win the pennant for optimism in any baseball league.

They have been hit harder by the war than any other club in the majors, yet they figure they are a cinch to finish at least second in the American League again this year.

Since the 1942 season closed the Red Soxers have lost their entire first string outfield. Ted Williams, Dominic DiMaggio and Lou Finney; the rookie shortstop sensation of the season, Johnny Pesky; and a pair of pitchers who combined to win 20 games, Bill Butland and Broadway Charlie Wagner.

That should be sufficient to stagger any aggregation, but it has only served to make the Bostonians bounce back with new determination.

The Sox were the first team to announce they were going to train at home this spring. Before Commissioner Kenesaw Landis and the magnates established the boundary of the Potomac and Ohio rivers, Tom Yawkey, millionaire owner of the Red Sox, had settled upon the Tufts University baseball cage in suburban Boston for the Red Sox training base.

This decision was supported superbly by the players, who reported in incredibly good shape for the curtailed conditioning program they will have in advance of their American League inaugural April 21. Practice started March 22 and the club as a whole looks as good as it would have after three weeks of the usual leisurely processing in Florida.

The result is that the team is in fine fettle for its first exhibition game day after tomorrow with the Brooklyn Dodgers in Brooklyn and feeling cocky about what is to come thereafter.

Westerners, Brooklyn to Meet in Garden

New York, April 1 —(AP)—They'll play a game of cowboys and Indians at Madison Square Garden tonight to wind up the basketball season and collect about $28,000 for the Red Cross.

The game pits the Wyoming Cowboys, winners of the National Collegiate A. A. tournament, against the Red Men of St. John's University in Brooklyn, victors in the National Invitational tournament. And it should settle, for the present, any controversy concerning the merits of these two tournaments, both of which ended in the Garden this week.

The runners-up in the two events, Georgetown and Toledo university, will clash in the first half of the charity doubleheader which is expected to attract some 18,000 spectators.

Wyoming, which averaged 60 points a game during the regular season in which it lost only to Duquesne, breezed through the western N.C.A.A. sectional tourney, then took the national title Tuesday by whipping Georgetown, 46 to 34. Meeting the hardest kind of competition, the Brooklyn Indians won 21 out of 23 regular season games and then eliminated, in turn, Rice, Fordham and Toledo.

Chicago Amateurs Take New Yorkers
Chicago, April 1 —(AP)—So far as New York's Golden Glovers were concerned there was no fooling today — no fooling that the midwest grows its amateur boxers tough.

The Manhattan fighters have been trying to whip the midwesterners at Chicago ever since the intricately bouts were originated in 1928. Even in their own backyard, the New Yorkers encountered aggravating resistance, winning only four times in the 16-year old rivalry.

But last night their efforts reached a climax of futility. The New Yorkers won only two of the 16 bouts in which a champion and an alternate from each team fought in the eight weight classes. Their lowest setback previously was in 1931 when Chicago won, 13 to 3.

The Chicagoans scored two knockout victories in their romp before a huge stadium crowd of 19,733 persons.

Last night's knockouts came from the fists of Hy Brounstein, attached to the Rosecrans Air Field at St. Joseph, Mo., and Reddy Evans, 19-year old Chicago negro. Both are light heavyweights.

Brounstein picked himself up after a first round knockdown to floor Joe Rochester in three frames. Minutes later Evans swarmed all over Alfred finally dropping the bewildered New Yorker in 37 seconds.

32 Areas Are Short on Labor Report Shows

By The Associated Press
Washington, April 1—The 48-hour work week went into effect in 32 laborshort areas today and a survey of affected cities indicated these general results:

1. Compliance, as described by area directors of the War Manpower Commission, was "good" to "100 per cent," and employers are cooperating.

2. No cases of open defiance had been reported to the WMC.

3. Requests for exemptions were comparatively few, and came principally from concerns with a small number of employees.

4. Few workers will be released for other jobs largely because virtually all war plants and many other concerns in the affected areas already had gone to a 48-hour week, but employers' demands for additional workers will be eased.

The area directors' reports bore out predictions by national WMC officials, but do not necessarily mean the novel presidential orders is getting perfect results because:

1. Employers adopting the 48-hour schedule are not required to report, and it is too early to determine whether silence means defiance, evasion, or unspoken defiance.

2. All requests for exemptions are not in yet, since the deadline for mailing such requests did not pass until last midnight. Submission of these requests constitutes compliance until they are ruled up.

The order, which affects lumber and non-ferrous metals mines throughout the nation as well as business and industry in the 32 areas, is one of three manpower actions carrying April 1 deadlines. The two others require:

1. Draft boards to begin reclassifying men in non-defeable occupations as available for immediate induction, regardless of whether they have wives or children. Those registered with U. S. Employment Offices for other jobs will get a 30-day stay of induction.

2. The Army to cease granting outright discharges to men 38 years and older. Instead, men released for work in agriculture or essential industry are to be transferred to the enlisted reserve. This means they can be recalled to active duty at any time.

National WMC officials expressed satisfaction with early reports on 48-hour week results. They said they had foreseen the longer work week already prevailing in the 32 areas would mean that few employees would be released for other work.

They said the purpose of the order would be effected by cutting down the labor requirements of concerns which would have to tap a tight labor market for more workers in order to follow a 40-hour schedule.

No reports were available on what pay adjustments are being made by employers not covered by wage-labor laws or labor agreements. The order, as interpreted by the WMC, requires payment of time and one-half after 40 hours only by those so covered.

Blanket exemptions were granted to firms having seven or fewer regular employees, those "principally engaged in agriculture," state, county and city governments; youths under 18, and "in individuals who, on account of other employment, household responsibilities, or physical limitations are not available for full time work."

Area directors were given discretionary authority to grant exceptions to businesses where a 48-hour schedule "would be impracticable in view of the nature of the operations, would not contribute to the reduction of labor requirements, or would conflict with any federal, state or local law or regulation limiting hours of work."

State Lumbermen to Go on 48-Hour Week

Little Rock, April 1—(AP)—All Arkansas firms engaged in the lumber business and mining of non-ferrous metals, unless specifically excluded, are expected to go on a 48-hour work week tomorrow or to apply to the War Manpower Commission for exemption, acting State Director D. Palmer Patterson said today.

Approximately 1,000 businesses are affected, including 900 lumber firms and about 100 mining establishments, Patterson said. It is said "only about a dozen" requests for exemptions have been received to date, and these will be taken under advisement by the commission.

Firms not going on a 48-hour work week tomorrow, must submit a proposed schedule for release of workers necessary to put the establishment on a 48-hour basis, or an application for a work week of less than 48 hours.

Patterson said he expected few workers to be released, and that the majority of firms plan to see their present employees and increase production on a 48-hour basis. The ruling applies only to firms with more than eight employees.

Lumber businesses affected include: Logging operations, sawmills, planing mills, veneer mills, plywood mills, cooperage - stock mills, cooperage establishments, shingle mills, wooden box factories, and wood pulp mills. Mining regulations cover firms engaged in handling all non-ferrous metals and their ores.

Airplanes have been built that can climb above 55,000 feet and travel more than 7 miles a minute.

Sympathetic Legislature Gives More Funds to Counties, Cities

By ED L. CAMPBELL

Little Rock, March 25 —(AP)—The counties and the cities went to the legislature this year with tearful eyes and collected the biggest dividends they have seen in years.

It was a new deal for the two sub-divisions of the state government.

Lowest estimates give them $400,000 to divvy up. And the counties are due to collect another $100,000. A half-million dollar pick-up even in these times of big money isn't to be sneezed at.

The combined forces made their killing on the sales tax, upsetting the old age pension forces and grabbing a five per cent share in the two per cent levy that is now producing about $8,000,000 a year for the state. Their bill (HB 207) splits the new revenue on an area and population basis but insures some funds for every town no matter how small.

The extra $100,000 for the counties comes from a measure (SB 531) dropping into the county highway turnback fund proceeds from the oil and gas inspection fees. This money previously went into general revenue and was used to finance the old food and cotton stamps program.

In addition, municipal street improvement districts and county road districts that failed to qualify for state aid under the 1941 refunding act were given additional time to come in (HB 905B 131). Another bill (SB 150) provides cities and counties shall have free motor vehicle licenses and counties which were organized into bridge districts will have that responsibility lifted (HB 453).

Cities got authority (HB 139) to enforce clean up drives and city councils were given authority to fill vacancies in their groups (HB 33).

Organization of cities would be facilitated by one bill (HB 114). Other measures provide for changes in the municipal waterworks law (SB 283), create fire men's pension boards (HB 259), ease collections in certain improvement districts (HB 274), regulate refinancing of improvements (HB 385), provide for waterworks commissioners in second class cities (SB 95), validate some old street sales (SB 51), and provide for filling vacancies on municipal housing boards (HB 260).

But it's going to cost somebody for there were plenty of salary raises dished out by the legislators.

The sheriffs — many of whom are still on a fee basis — got a bill (HB 224) making uniform the fees charged for the riservices and increasing most of them. They also got a bill increasing the fees charged by them for collecting improvement district taxes (SB 299).

A general bill (HB 331) gave salary increases to the county judges in Craighead, Franklin, Howard and Sevier counties, but local bills were the vehicle for most raises. On the subject of local bills, the House said little but the Senate squawked loud. One member warned that the local bills would not stand up in court, recounting an experience in his own county two years ago with a local bill to raise an officials salary. But the legislators were undeterred.

So, bills were passed giving bigger salaries to all of the officials in Crawford, Ashley and Union counties; giving more money to the sheriffs or their deputies in Jefferson, Sevier, Sebastian, Stone, Columbia and Lawrence counties; adding to the income of the circuit clerks in Fulton, Craighead, Greene and Lee; the assessors in Craighead, Mississippi, Saline, Hot Spring, Jefferson, Poinsett, Lincoln; Franklin and Sharp; officials of the St. Francis levee board; quorum court members in Ashley and Pope; court reporters in Jefferson, Sebastian and the 10th circuit; the treasurer and coroner in Jefferson; the Boone treasurer, and the Lee county clerk. Court expenses were augmented in the 12th chancery, first and tenth circuit court districts.

The old county road overseer system was revived by local bills for Fulton, Greene, Randolph, Boone, Newton, Cross, Pike and Randolph counties.

On the city side, salaries were increased for the Fort Smith, Pine Bluff and Van Buren municipal judges; the Fort Smith mayor and city commissioners; and the Pine Bluff municipal clerk. The Jonesboro municipal clerk was given authority to name his own deputy. The Little Rock and Fort Smith civil service systems were extended. An Arkadelphia paving district collected some $19,000 in taxes from Henderson State Teachers College, and the state was ordered to give North Little Rock title to some lands.

If every housewife in the United States saved 4 ounces of waste cooking fats in a week, it would produce enough glycerine for the requirements of 13 million pounds of double base powder, used as a high explosive.

The pocket watch was invented in Nurnberg.
